ORAL REPORTS

9.1 Report Out of Closed Session

There was no report out of Closed Session.

9.2 District Update by the Superintendent

The Superintendent reported on the following:

- Superintendent Bennett presented the following RAVE Awards:
 - Karla Ceja: Ms. Karla is a paraeducator who provides support to a particular student who rides the bus for a little over an hour one way to attend a specialized school. This student displays various challenging behaviors, along with no verbal communication whatsoever. Giving positive reinforcement strategies and behavior interventions, along with the trust Ms. Karla developed, this student started to verbalize saying "hi" to her while riding the bus. Now, this may appear minimal. However, the task is nothing short of a miracle. This student has never verbalized any words throughout his educational career. In addition, the student is now engaging in nursery rhymes out loud with Ms. Karla. Karla is the embodiment of the District mission of creating high-quality, relevant learning opportunities for all in a safe and caring environment, as well as the District's vision of providing a caring, diverse, and supportive learning environment in which we all are committed to working in relationships to foster innovative and creative learning opportunities.

- Raquel Martinez and Martha Nunez: On March 13th, a student had an adverse reaction to a substance causing them to lose consciousness. Ms. Nunez, our licensed vocational nurse, and our health technician, Ms. Martinez, rushed to the student's aide to determine that the student had an undetectable pulse. Ms. Nunez and Ms. Martinez calmly and efficiently administered CPR until paramedics arrived. Ms. Nunez and Ms. Martinez performed CPR until the student had a detectable pulse and could breathe independently. The ability to calmly execute CPR more than likely saved a student's life. They are heroes; outside of this critical incident, Heritage High relies on the expertise of both Ms. Nunez and Ms. Martinez, ensuring that our student's health needs are met. This encompasses checking sugar levels for students with diabetes, assisting students with inhalers for asthma, performing catheter procedures for students with medical needs, and supporting students who are not feeling well enough to learn in class efficiently. Heritage High School students and staff appreciate the love and care that Ms. Nunez and Ms. Martinez provide daily.
- Superintendent Bennett congratulated Dr. Erika Tejeda for receiving the State ACSA High School Principal of the Year Award and will be honored in November at the Annual ACSA State Conference.
- Perris High School recently had its WASC accreditation visit, which was successful.
- Superintendent Bennett congratulated James Heckman for receiving the WRCASM Classified Administrator of the Year Award and Robert Brough for the WRCASM Educational Services Administrator of the Year Award.
- In addition, Kirk Skorpanich was the WRCASM President for the last two years, and next year will be the ACSA Region XIX President. Dr. Erika Tejeda will be the ACSA Region XIX President following Kirk. Mr. Bennett is also a state board member for ACSA.
- Superintendent Bennett congratulated James Heckman for the Community Award and Mark Synnott for the Life Legacy Award they received at the RCOE ESports Award Ceremony.
- Lastly, Superintendent Bennett said he was in Sacramento at the ACSA Legislative Action Days. They lobbied for five areas in education which were full LCFF funding, help with recruiting and retaining teachers, school construction bond to be placed on the ballot, streamlining the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency (ESSER) Relief Fund plan, and preserving the Arts, Music, and Instructional Materials block grant.

9.4 PSEA President Jason Miller

PSEA President Jason Miller shared the following statements:

- "Congratulations to all the RAVE Award winners today."
- "It is that time of year when teachers begin thinking of next year. One of the top priorities for teachers at this time of year is what classes they will be teaching next year. I want to give some insight into what teachers think about preparing for those classes for next year. For one, teachers should have a good idea now. In the spring of 2023, about what they are teaching and not beginning a new set of classes a few days or just a few weeks before school. It happens, but realistically that should be the rarity, not the common practice. Teachers need to be able to prepare for their new classes. Teachers also want, of course, to teach the classes they want to teach. We get that all the time. This is generally manageable, but not always. Administrators should not be playing favorites with master scheduling. Teachers are generally given what they want to teach unless there are reasonable circumstances why they cannot teach certain classes, and it does happen. Not liking a teacher is not a reasonable circumstance. They may not be likable, but if they're a good teacher, they should be able to teach what they want under reasonable circumstances. Although teacher performance is a reasonable circumstance to say you shouldn't be teaching that"
- "Teachers, by and large, do not like to have multiple preps, which in teacher slang language refers to the number of different types of classes they teach. For example, I have two biology classes and one class of anatomy. Thus I have three classes but two preps. So I hope that makes sense. Administrators should balance this out amongst teachers in a department. I know that master scheduling is not a very neat and tidy thing all the time. The more preps the teacher has, the more work they must do to manage their curriculum and classes. The current cap is three preps, although our contract has some contingency to go beyond three. However, a reasonable amount of prep periods for most teachers should be between one and two. Let me be clear, this is not a perspective for all teachers, but most teachers feel like the fewer preps, the better. We hope that as master schedules are created throughout the spring and the summer, these things and the teacher's desires are kept in mind to the extent possible. Thank you for the time to speak."

9.5 CSEA President Nathanael Nash

CSEA President Nathanael Nash shared the following statements:

- "I'm pleased to report that CSEA has ratified the MOU and sent our Sunshine Agreement for negotiations to the District, and it's on this evening's board agenda."
- "I would also like to remind the board that Classified School Employees Week is coming up. That week is May 21st through the 27th. This is the time to recognize and celebrate the hardworking contributions of our classified employees. We are grateful for their dedication to our schools, the District, and the important roles they play in the education of our students here in this District."

- "Lastly, I am pleased that the District plans to participate in the ACE program. Administrators will have the opportunity to shadow different classified positions on that day. The program will help administrators better understand the day-to-day of each classified employee and their job duties, and challenges that come their way. This has helped to promote better collaboration and communication between classified and management staff throughout the different areas within our District. Thank you for your time."
